Letter From The Executive Director

The Birch Scroll is really the final finale to the 1996 Dyno American Birkebeiner. This year was a year with a lot of firsts and a few obstacles to overcome, but with strong support from many of our faithful skiers, supportive sponsors, hard working staff and a board that believes in putting on the best race possible, and the wonderful chiefs and volunteers that made it happen, it now will become history.

The past year some changes were made with the snowshoe race being added and the skiathlon being dropped. The feedback was positive and the board will assess whether this race will continue. Snowshoeing is the fastest growing silent sport and was enjoyed by those either racing to win or just enjoyment.

All of you who skied the Birkie and Kortelopet found your wave the largest ever. Again, should a cap be put on this race? The board will soon decide and let you know. This is a decision that will not be easy to make with so many factors to consider.

As we begin planning for next year's race, we thank you for making the Birkebeiner what it is today. We look forward to having you back for the 25th in 1997.

To The Skiers of the American Birkebeiner:

Your concerns about the conditions of the trail for race day are very important to everyone at ABSF. Let us assure you that what took place was in the best interest of the health and safety of our 7,500 skiers.

Weather conditions on Friday put us in a predicament over how to groom the trail. The weather on Friday started with rain in mid-morning, and turned to heavy wet snow by mid-afternoon, which continued until approximately 9:00 p.m. Temperatures stayed in the 34-36 degree range all day long, resulting in a high moisture content, while maintaining a hard three-inch crust. At this point, our biggest concern was with the first 25 kilometers, which as the skiers know, is extremely hilly. The concern was based on the fact that if the skiers broke through this crust going up these hills, the effect on them would be overwhelming.

Several attempts were made to groom the trail in the Telemark area. These attempts led to a nice looking trail, but when skied upon, it turned to mush. This lead to a meeting, and the decision to wait until later in the evening when the temperatures were supposed to cool down. Around midnight, the temperature dropped to 32 degrees, but there was still a high moisture content in the snow. At 1:30 a.m. on Saturday, when the temperature was at 30 degrees, the decision was made to not use the big groomer, because we wanted to keep the hard base without disturbing the tracks. Therefore, the center of the trail was groomed by snowmobile and a seven-foot drag. This was done from Telemark to Lake Hayward, giving a 14-foot area in the center of the trail for the skiers. This was completed by 6 a.m., giving some time for the trail to set up. However, due to the warm weather, and lack of set-up time, new tracks could not be set for classical skiers. The old tracks could not be adequately removed in order to allow new tracks to set on a proper line.

Temperatures continued to rise throughout the day, from 30 degrees at the 9:00 a.m. race, to 53 degrees by 2:30 p.m. This resulted in deteriorating trail conditions throughout the day. Mother Nature put us in a bad predicament.

We have always tried to give you, the skier, the best possible trail conditions that we can, as the groomers and caretakers of the trail. We have always taken great pride in ABSF, and the way the trail is groomed. But, we are not perfect. However, remember that our biggest concern is and always will be for the safety and welfare of all our skiers. Many different skiers and other concerned people were part of the decision on how, when, and what to do to the trail.

Thank you for skiing the American Birkebeiner trail, we will never deliberately let you down. We will both be available on April 27, at 7:00 p.m. at the Veteran's Community Building in Hayward to answer any questions that you the skiers may have.

Chequamegon Snowshoe Championship Wins to Domantay and Schroeder

-by William F. Johnson IV

A new event hosted by the American Birkebeiner Foundation, the Chequamegon Snowshoe Championship, a 10 kilometer race held on the challenging Bill Koch Trail, was held on Friday, February 23.

Overall men's winner Greg Domantay, Chicago, Ill., covered the course in :48.09, while overall women's winner Cynthia Schroeder, Minneapolis, Minn., was in at :58.45.

Second and third place in the men's division went to Jim Cihak, Marquette, Mich. (:48.21) and Herb Lindsey, Washburn, Wis. (49.31).

Paulette Dow, St. Paul, Minn. (1:02.00) took the silver and Sarah Steel, Woodruff, Wis. (1:16.11) snagged the bronze.

Domantay and Cihak paced the race with Lindsey finishing in third just 1 minute, 22 seconds back.

The women's race was up for grabs with Schroeder coming off 10K wins at Duluth's Beargrease Snowshoe Race and the New World Championship Snowshoe Races at Luck, Wis., earlier in the season, and Dow having taken home the gold in half marathon distances at those races plus several other 10K wins in the Twin Cities. At the finish line at Telemark, it was Schroeder with the gold today.

Local runner Bean Linzmeyer, Hayward, Wis., won the woman's 40-49 age group with a time of 1:18.35.

The 10K race course, which follows a glacier esker for three kilometers and has a few challenging climbs, proved to be tougher than predicted by Redfeather Snowshoe rep Robert Ames, of Aspen, Colorado. With his experience in snowshoe races in the mountains out West, he predicted the winning time would be 30 minutes for this "easy" Midwestern race. He found out why the World comes here to compete in Birkebeiner events.

This year's race was sponsored by Northern Lites Snowshoes and Redfeather Snowshoes. □

Great Moments of the Twenty-Fourth Birkebeiner

-by Jay Tegeder

The 1996 Dyno American Birkebeiner proved to be one of the most memorable races in the great history of the event. North America's largest ski festival set an all-time high participant record with over 10,000 skiers in the four main races. As usual, Executive Director Marilyn Schutz and her crew did a fantastic job.

The festivities started off Thursday morning, February 22nd at 11:30 with the opening ceremonies. First came the Parade of Nations, followed by the elite skiers making their way down Main Street in Hayward. Next up, the 1995 Birkebeiner winners, Andre Jungen from Switzerland and Maria Theurl from Austria, lit the torch and the party began.

Right after that, Main Street was turned into a race course for the Salomon Elite Sprints. The field was incredibly strong with the top Americans, Canadians and Europeans in attendance. Now, I'm still trying to figure out if the highlight of the event was the actual sprints or the cannon fire Rudi Kapellar was using in the starters pistol.

Rudi is the captain of the Austrian Police Ski Team and the 1983 Birkebeiner winner. He put on a show rapidly firing blanks into the air. When the smoke cleared, Gunnar Havel from the Czech Republic and Gudrun Kirnbauer from Austria were the winners.

Next on the agenda was the Swiss Miss/Sons of Norway Barnebirkie, the largest children's ski race in the Western Hemisphere. The 1996 version marked the tenth anniversary of the event. Starting on the edge of Hayward, the kids skied three different lengths depending on age. Every child was a winner as they skied 1, 2.5 or 5 kilometers. Medals were awarded to all, and out of the ranks of the Barnebirkie skiers will come tomorrow's champions.

Thursday wrapped up with the Northern Lakes Cooperative 10 Kilometer Fun Race at 6:30 in the evening. The trail went from downtown Hayward to the golf course. All finishers received a pin and the satisfaction of completing an event in the true spirit of having a good time.

Friday got off to a good start with the first Chequamegon 5 and 10 kilometer snowshoe races. Also, there were plenty of snowshoes around for the novice participants to try. All in all, the event was a lot of fun and proved to be a good complement to the Birkebeiner.

Friday concluded with the Annual Spag-

etti Feed in the coliseum. The all-you-can-eat feast drew a large crowd as the skiers anticipated Saturday's big race. The big question of the day was: what would Friday's sloppy three-inch snowfall do to the Birkie Trail?

Saturday morning and the HEAT was on! The thermometer was right at freezing when the Dyno American Birkebeiner and Heritage Bank of Hayward Kortelopet started at 9:00 a.m. and it just kept rising. The sun was bright and the snow turned to a sticky mush. Maybe Mother Nature thought of the slow course as a payback for 1995's fast conditions. The trail treated everyone the same. However, deep rills and soft skis seemed to solve the problem.

Johnny Ingdahl from Minneapolis ran away with the Kortelopet crown and Sally Zack from Fairbanks, Alaska took the women's title. They conquered the early hills of the Birkebeiner Trail and the other competitors of North America's second largest ski race. The two winners made their way 25 kilometers to Double O on one of the most beautiful ski courses in the country, some say the world.

For those who continued on for the full 52 kilometers, victory in the largest ski race outside of Europe awaited them: the victory of the win to the elite skiers and the victory over one's self to the others.

As has been said, "To the victor goes the spoils!" In this instance the spoils were cash. A record $25,000 were up for grabs. The first place man and woman each received seventy-five hundred greenbacks, while second and third place was worth three thousand and two thousand respectively.

In the men's field, the order was Silvano Barco from Italy, followed by Andre Blatter and Gunther Fersterer from Austria. Gudrun Pflueger finished up a great day for Rudi Kapellar and the Austrian Police Team taking the women's title. Former U.S. Ski Team-mates Laura McCabe and Ingrid Butts grabbed second and third, just like they did in 1995.

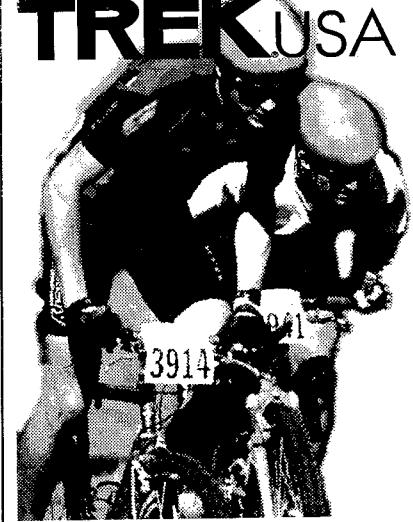

The big festival concluded Saturday night with the Awards Banquet. The ten-year finishers and twenty-year "Birch Leggings" recipients as well as the class winners were recognized.

Ben Husaby received the use of a brand new Legacy Outback station wagon for a year from the good folks at Subaru for being the first American across the Birkebeiner finish line. In addition, the video was a big hit, and Marilyn Schutz promised an even bigger and better event for the silver anniversary twenty-fifth Dyno American Birkebeiner next year. Keep your skis waxed! □

Skis, Smiles, and Cookies Mark Tenth Anniversary Barnebirkie

-by Erin Sobaski

Three-year-old Jason crossed the finish line on his two-foot skis, cheeks all rosy, and said, "I'm tired." As I put the colorful medal around his neck I asked if he had fun. "Oh, yes!" he replied as the smile spread across his face and he went off for the apres-ski cookies and hot chocolate.

This was just one of the many moments that made the tenth anniversary of the Sons of Norway Barnebirkie, held February 22 in Hayward, Wisconsin, so special. In 1987 Sons of Norway and The American Birkebeiner Foundation introduced a children's event to the weekend activities of The American Birkebeiner, the nation's largest cross-country ski race. Two-hundred-thirty-six children showed up for that first event.

In 1996, a record-breaking 1800+ children ages three to thirteen skied the Barnebirkie, some from as far away as Oregon. This year's event was a combined effort from Sons of Norway International Headquarters, co-sponsor Swiss Miss, Sons of Norway District 5, The American Birkebeiner Foundation, Bill Koch Ski League, and the communities of Hayward and Cable.

Emily Hultman remembers that first Barnebirkie race, which she skied when she was only four. "My grandpa taught me how to ski and I wanted to do the Barnebirkie," said Hultman. "I remember being in the fourth wave and there weren't many kids then."

Today, Hultman is captain of her varsity ski team in International Falls, Minnesota. Having done all nine previous Barnebirkies, she was unable to participate this year because she has turned fourteen.

The kids skiing were definitely enthused -- lined up an hour before the race started, official race bibs secured, ready to ski their chosen 1-, 2.5- or 5-kilometer course. The more serious skiers were warming up and practicing, while the less experienced ones were doing their best just to make it to the starting line.

All the while, clowns from the Cable Area Lions Club were mingling with the crowd. A hot air balloon was hovering above, flags were flying, music was playing. And there was the ubiquitous Viking, otherwise known as Harold Lovdahl, Norse Valley 5-491, Appleton, Wisconsin. Lovdahl has dressed as a Viking for six Barnebirkies, the lowering of his sword starting many races. His main duty? "Getting my picture taken," said Lovdahl. "All the parents want their kid's picture taken with the Viking and I'm happy to oblige."

Consul of Norway Kare Flatten started the first wave of children. As the kids made their way on the course, they passed the Hayward Elementary School, their classmates outside cheering. Many fell, but got right back up and kept on going -- on towards snow-covered Main Street in downtown. Here parents and spectators lined the street, watching with pride and delight as the kids gave that last effort to finish the race and receive their medal. Then it was time to warm up with Swiss Miss hot cocoa and one or two of the sixteen hundred dozen cookies made by district 5 members (except for one child who honestly remarked, "I can't eat sugar or dairy!").

Organizing a ski race for two thousand children can be quite a challenge. But one word sums up why the event ran so smoothly: volunteers. "I can't believe the support we received locally," said first-time Barnebirkie coordinator Bill Solboe. "D.J. and Kari Aderman of Hayward did a tremendous job taking care of all the crucial planning and execution. And I'm grateful to all the Sons of Norway volunteers from throughout district 5, especially the local area lodges, who did anything needed."

Through the years the Barnebirkie has grown and improved, but some things stay the same: the event is still free to all participants and is noncompetitive. Although some young skiers, like Emily Hultman, may go on to compete (she plans on skiing the Birkebeiner next year), most learn this Norwegian tradition just for fun.

The goal behind the Barnebirkie -- to provide children with a positive skiing experience in the tradition of the American Birkebeiner -- has also remained constant. Seeing the sense of accomplishment on the faces of the kids, their parents, and the volunteers proves once again the Barnebirkie has achieved that goal. □

CANADIANS AT THE BIRKIE

-by Claude Liman

Last year's Birkebeiner had more skiers (58) from Canada than from any other nation except the U.S. itself. This year 71 Canadians trekked to Wisconsin for the annual gathering of the nordic clan.

Most of these Canadians drive either 10 hours south and east from the Winnipeg area of Manitoba or due south from Thunder Bay, Ontario. Twenty-five skiers from Winnipeg and 19 from Thunder Bay did either the Birkie or Kortelopet this year. Had those 44 racers hailed from one province -- call it Manitario or Ontman -- it would have ranked eighth in 1995 behind Indiana's 47.

Despite a currency exchange rate that adds 40 percent to their expenses, some long and hazardous winter drives and the fact that they have their own Canadian Birkebeiner to support, Canadians obviously love the American Birkebeiner. Who are some of these Canadians, and what are their Birkie stories?

No Canadian, male or female, has ever won the Birkie, but Pierre Harvey, the three-time World Cup winner from Quebec, almost did. In the Birkie record book there should be an asterisk by his name as the fastest skier in the shortened 1991 race. After missing his start by two minutes because of traffic problems, he began the race with the elite women only to end it in third place, ten seconds behind winner Manfred Nagl.

Another strong Canadian performance was turned in last winter by Bernie Lacourciere of Thunder Bay. After breaking his pole at the start and skiing one-armed to the first food stop, he got a new pole and charged to a seventh place finish. In this courageous way he became the top North American finisher, the same title he'd earned at the Mora Vasaloppet two weeks earlier with a strong win there. (Has any other North American ever double-dipped like that before?)

This year Robin McKeever of the Canadian National Team was eighth in his very first Birkie with a time of 2:30:28. Only 23, McKeever could become a formidable World Loppet skier like Pierre Harvey as his World Cup and Olympic career goes on.

Pekka Kemppi of Thunder Bay, the coach of the National Development Team headquartered there, showed his racers how to Birkie this year with a good 23rd place showing in 2:38:10. This 32-year old master skier from Finland, second in the Lahti Finlandia in 1993, knows that one of the best ways to coach his young skiers is to beat them.

Erik Allen, one of his Thunder Bay group -- and 12 years younger than Pekka -- came the closest to the coach with a 2:39:37, good for 30th place.

It's fortunate that an empty spot in their race schedule allowed Kemppi to bring his five team members and other top Canadian racers to the 24th Birkie, but year in and year out the citizen participation from the north of the border is the real story.

Richard Suttie of Thunder Bay, affectionately known as "The Lizard," is a ring-leader of this citizen group. Richard has been coming to the Birkie for 17 years now and will probably keep on coming until all the klister runs out of his tube. He maintains his first or second wave status despite many mid-winter excursions to Mexico and other southern climes and despite a strong affinity for the famous party atmosphere of the Birkie.

"I knew right from my first Birkie in 1976 that this was a well-run, top-class event," says Suttie. "It's always been a real high for me to come to Hayward. I've seen the Birkie grow over the years into an international happening. It's wonderful to have such a major nordic event right in our backyard. The course itself is one of the nicest, most challenging I ski."

"At the Birkie, you always meet other nordic skiers from all over the world. I've never been to the Olympics, but the Birkie feels like an Olympics to me."

Another fixture of the Thunder Bay group is Alf Petrone, a 71-year old former marathon runner who still wins age-group awards in the Kortelopet (he was third this very year). Alf has been to five Birkies and two Kortelopets but maintains the enthusiasm of a first-time participant.

Maybe one reason Alf stays so young and competitive is his beautiful young wife, Celina Reitberger, the annual queen of the prom in Cable/Hayward. Celina did a 2:22:54 in the 1996 Kortelopet, her second year in that event after five previous Birkies, placing 13th in her age class.

"Both Alf and I have done Birkies diagonal style and skating, from Hayward to Cable and vice versa, from Rosie's Field when we were stuck on the bus as the starting gun went off. We're both veterans. We've been up and down the Seeley Fire Tower Hill a few times."

Vic Emery, another Thunder Bay skier (by way of England and Switzerland) participates in his very first Birkie this year, winning a third place medal in his 60-64 age class with a sterling 3:24:25.

"I've skied quite a number of loppets in North America and Europe over the past 30 years," says Emery, "and there's no question that the Birkie rates amongst the very top as a happening. Not only the buzz in Telemark Lodge and at both the start and finish but also out on the trail - that marvelous little S turn downhill just before OO where a style board marks your prowess accompanied by 'oohs' and 'aahs' from the crowd, the inspiration of the 'ladies' at Bitch Hill, etc. etc."

Since I live in Thunder Bay myself, I don't know the Winnipeg skiers very well, but I do sense how much they enjoy their annual pilgrimage to Hayward. Every Thursday night before the Birkie they can be found around a large table in the basement at Metro's Ski Inn, competing in noise-making with the Thunder Bay table.

Marty Hall, an honorary member of both the Winnipeg and Thunder Bay groups even though he's an American who now comes from Vancouver, usually wanders back and forth between both parties, taking his beer glass and tall tales with him.

Hall has skied in only six races, 1979-81 and 1993, 95 and 96, but his Birkie roots go way back. In 1975, as the U.S. Olympic coach, he brought the team to Telemark for training when his eastern site had no snow. In the late 1970s he helped design both the World Cup and Birkie trails we ski today.

For his first three Birkies in the 1979-81 period he was both technical assistant for the race as well as a competitor, so he knows what happens behind the scenes as well as out on the trail itself. "Back then I turned in the same times I'm running now, about three hours, but in classical technique," says Hall. "I'd get my 25% pin and place third to fifth in my age class."

Returning as a skate skier from 1993-96 (with 1994 off due to Olympic commentating duties), Hall has now seen "the personality of the race in two different eras and from both sides of the border. I come here now strictly as a competitor.

"I revere the atmosphere, the renewed friendships and the spectacle of the Birkie. Although I participate in many other races, this one from Telemark Lodge to Hayward is the focus and culmination of my competitive year."

Comments like these from a cross-section of Canadian skiers should by now have convinced you that Canadians feel about the Birkie the same way all the rest of you do. We see it as a North American celebration with no national boundaries.

We Canadians would say, loudly and clearly, in both French and English, with our voices, entry fees and enthusiasm, "Please keep our Birkie the great event Tony Wise made it. Please keep drawing us back to the Hayward area to see all our international nordic friends and to ski one of the great trails of the world." □

-Claude Liman kept his Birkie record intact with a 3:24:05 this year, good enough to beat all the other Thunder Bay guys in rooms 207 and 223 of Telemark Lodge. He teaches in the English department at Lakehead University in Thunder Bay, Ontario, where he also writes a cross country column for the local paper. He is now assembling a book of ski essays, tentatively titled "Conversion of the Alpine Clan."

...the first day of January.

He had less than 60 days to get in shape to ski 55 kilometers.

He figured he'd better start training.

So he jogged the quarter-mile from his house to his mailbox in rural Colfax, in west-central Wisconsin. That was enough for Day 1, he reasoned. He walked back.

The next day, he jogged to the mailbox again -- and then jogged back.

"Each day I added a quarter-mile," Wilson said, but 34 miles of skiing still seemed impossible to him.

"I couldn't imagine skiing that far," said Wilson, who had downhill skied but done little cross country. "I wasn't doing anything aerobic."

Remarkably, by the time race day arrived he not only finished the race but overtook several friends; Birkie veterans all, who had goaded him into trying it in the first place.

Despite using borrowed fiberglass striding skis and having no kick wax (which forced him to do a running herringbone up the hills and a lot of double poling) he finished, respectably, in about 5 hours.

After completing his 12th Birkebeiner in February, Wilson, now 50, can look back and laugh at his days as a novice Nordic skier.

He has become a fast skier, always starting in the Birkebeiner's first wave. He usually finishes in the top 500 in about 3 hours.

Maybe more impressively, he has become an authority in the sport on a national level.

"These were never goals I set. They are things I just enjoy doing," said Wilson. "Things just kind of evolved."

Wilson serves as a coach for three Wisconsin ski associations and the United States Ski Association. He also is a certified official for Federal International Ski (FIS) events. In mid-February, for example, he coached at a national USSA race at Giant's Ridge in Biwabik, Minn.

In January, he officiated for the first time at the national cross-country championships, which featured the U.S. Olympians and other top skiers at Lake Placid, N.Y.

"I've been blessed with the ability to do the things I want to do. The corollary is if you like what you do you'll be good at it," Wilson said.

While his ski activism has taken him across the country, he is best known in west-central Wisconsin for his tireless efforts to groom and design area trails and for helping teach people to ski.

He trains two groups of Eau Claire Ski

Striders June through March. He also conducts a free clinic on Wednesday nights in the winter in Eau Claire. The clinic draws up to 40 people a night.

Numerous area skiers have learned the basics of the skating and striding techniques from Wilson. Of course, Wilson credits the help of Eau Claire friends, like Tom Hebert Jr. and Charlie Steil, for getting him into skiing and teaching him how.

When not on snow, Wilson and his wife, Kay, operate Bjorndal Woodworks at their home near Colfax. They do custom wood-working, including millwork and making furniture.

Their love for the northwoods took them in a new direction last year. They bought the Crest Hill Resort on the Tiger Cat Flowage, 15 miles east of Hayward,

"It's 10 minutes off the Birkie trail," Wilson said with a smile.

The year-round resort has four cabins and a three-bedroom house, which they hope to keep filled with vacationing families who are looking to ski, snowmobile, fish or mountain bike.

Wilson, a native of Wayzata, Minn., grew up downhill skiing with his family but wasn't introduced to cross country until he attended a prep school in Maine. And then the sport appealed to him mostly as a way to cross-train for track.

Now he can't get enough of skiing. He's on skis up to 70 days from December through January, logging 750 to 900 miles a winter. He skis five days a week and has gone as far as 100 kilometers (62.5 miles) in a day.

He's thousands of miles down the ski trail from that January day 12 years ago when he managed only a quarter-mile run.

"I don't ever recall going skiing when I felt like I had to and didn't want to," Wilson said. "Sometimes it's tough to get out the door, but once you're out there it's always an enjoyable experience." □

The Birkie -- Spectator Style

—by Kathy Kurkiewicz

Birkie morning, 1993, started early for me and my skier. Finally all of the preparing and planning could be put into action. I had studied the maps and the parking areas. I had my strategy. It was all planned to go off without a hitch.

My dad, my husband and I hit the road early. The clothes were layered on and the equipment was loaded. We were driving the wagon and my dad had the first leg of driving. Wally (our skier) used the time to prepare mentally for the race. And so did I. I wasn't only a spectator today, I was the pit crew, the pack-mule, the photographer, the video manager ... the Master Planner.

Checkpoint one: We hit Telemark in time and get "prime parking." No shuttle bus needed for this leg. Success.

Checkpoint two: We staked out our area inside Telemark Lodge for race prep. Right on track.

Checkpoint three: Head out to the race start. Our skier's wave located. We send him into the thick of things.

Checkpoint four: Our wave is up, but I can't spot Wally anywhere. Glitch #1. So I just point the camera and hope for success.

Suddenly my feet are on fire -- I'm hopping around. I kick off my boots and remove the footwarmers. A little too warm. Glitch #2.

We race for our car and our Seeley Checkpoint. We hit the Seeley parking lot and race for the shuttle bus (with a quick stop at the satellite first).

We wait for Wally to ski by -- my fingers are numb. Wally races past and I miss the video moment.

We race back to the car. Icy plowed field (parking lot) keeps the wagon marooned. I try pushing. No luck. A group of spectators passes and helps push. Victory!

We hit Hayward and park the wagon. Finish in sight.

Half a dozen times one of us yells, "Here he comes!" I hit record, then realize it's someone else. Then -- it's really Wally -- I get the big finish on tape and we run to meet our skier. Race day success. □
